D-Scholarship@Pitt
Promote Preserve & Propel Your Research

Timothy Deliyannides, Office of Scholary Communication and Publishing

d-scholarship.pitt.edu

The perfect place to share your research

- Research papers, published or unpublished
- Conference presentations
- White papers and reports
- Audio and video
- Research data

Keep it all together

- Put all your work in one place, making it easier for others to find
- PDFs, PowerPoints, audio, video, zips—Keep all files in one record
- Meet grant requirements by providing a permanent home for your research outputs
- Long-term preservation guaranteed

Who's reading? Who's citing?
Track the impact of your work with built-in metrics
- Citations via Scopus, PubMed, and SSRN
- Downloads, views, and clicks
- Sharing through Mendeley and Figshare
- Social bookmarking via Delicious
- Social media buzz from Twitter, Facebook, Reddit, and more

You're in control

- Provide Open Access to your research
  —or limit access to your scholarship to Pitt only
- Make your research outputs available immediately
  —or embargo them for a period of time
- Reserve all rights to your work or pick a Creative Commons license to let others know how to attribute and use your scholarship
- Copyright guidance from library staff so that you can share safely and legally

The Power of Pitt

- Show colleagues and administrators the important research you're doing at Pitt
- Highlight the scholarship of your departments, research centers, and labs
- Use D-Scholarship@Pitt to attract research and funding opportunities

The Power of Open Access

- Share your research broadly, safely, and wisely with scholars and students around the world
- No cost or technology barriers to accessing and benefitting from your research

ORCID

Ask me about ORCID!

- Use an ORCID ID to distinguish you from other researchers
- Helps identify you—and only you —as the author of a work
- Use it when submitting publications and applying for grants to ensure you credit for your work
- Connect your research to local information systems at Pitt
- Register now at https://orcid.pitt.edu