COUNSELING CENTER SURVEY AND DIRECTORY
1985
October 1, 1985

Dear Colleague:

The report on the survey of counseling center directors by the Urban Counseling Center Task Force is enclosed. Highlights of the survey are listed followed by a summary of the data broken down by urban/non-urban, and large/small institutions. A directory alphabetized both by person and institution is also provided.

While the report has been sent to you as a reward for your participation and there is no further obligation, if your budget can spare it, a contribution of $4.00 would help defray the printing and mailing costs. Use the attached form if you want to do this. Space is also provided for you to order the 1985 Speakers Resource Directory which was put together for ACPA and which, thanks to your contributions, has enlarged considerably over last year.

I hope you find the survey data helpful and that you can find the time to return the attached evaluation sheet.

Sincerely,

Robert P. Gallagher, Director
University Counseling and Student Development Center

P.S. Just one more item. Please review the enclosed request for humorous material and respond if the spirit moves you.
Considering only the total data (combined urban and non-urban) of the responding centers it was noted that:

--21 centers (9%) charge for counseling services; up 1% from 1984, and 3% from 1983. A little over half of these centers collect third party payments. (Items 1 & 2)

--65 centers (26%) are at least partially supported by mandatory student fees. About half of these report that fees cover more than 90% of their budget. (Item 3)

--21% report their budgets fared better on average than other institutional units, 19% fared worse, and 68% fared about the same. (Item 5)

--For the third year in a row centers report more gains than losses in staff positions. About twice as many centers report gains in new positions than those reporting losses. (Items 6 & 7)

--40% of centers have on-line computers; 60% have microcomputers. The increase in microcomputers has tripled over the past two years. (Item 8)

--16 mergers of counseling centers and the mental health units of student health services were reported; 11 clinics merged under counseling centers, 2 under health services, and 3 did not report direction. (Item 10)

--In the past 2 years 33 counseling centers gained responsibility for career counseling, while 15 centers lost such responsibility. 46% of directors believe career counseling should be done primarily in the counseling center, 15% feel the placement center is the most appropriate setting, and 38% prefer an equal sharing. (Items 11 & 12)

--27% of centers have IACS accreditation. Comments about value of this accreditation are appended. (Items 18 & 54)

--19% are unionized, comments on unionization are appended. (Items 20 & 54)

--72 centers have waiting list problems. Of these 75% have a formal intake system. Feelings about intake systems are summarized. (Items 22 & 23)

--51% report an increase in prevalence of seriously disturbed students in past year. (Item 22)

--20% report seeing more cases of anorexia, 48% saw an increase in bulimia. (Items 28 & 29)

--59% of centers report an increase in learning skills disorders. (Item 31)
Special training programs for staff in past year have focused primarily on eating disorders (74%), alcohol problems (62%), legal issues (57%), women's issues (53%) and crisis intervention (50%). (Item 30)

6 suits were filed against centers, and 33 centers had their case records subpoenaed. (See items 32 & 33 for descriptions)

58 centers (24%) gave warning to a third party about a potentially dangerous client. (Item 36)

57 centers (23%) limit the number of counseling sessions allowed. Interestingly these centers have a higher mean number of sessions per client than do centers with no such limits. (Items 39 & 40)

When a student-in-residence exhibits some suicidal potential in a counseling session 14% of directors would quietly let residence directors know, 46% would encourage student to inform, or give counselor permission to inform residence director, and 40% would do neither, and would continue to counsel. (Item 41)

54 centers (22%) have a written policy on when and how to notify parents (spouse, etc.) of a student's seriously deteriorating psychological condition. (Item 42)

The majority of directors found it problematic when counseling centers: take a pro-choice, or pro-abortion stand (89%), store client information on the computer main-frame (84%), or provide religious counseling within the center (64%). A minority of directors found the following problematic: reporting a client who is an active child abuser (34%); sharing client information with a government agent who has a signed release form (40%); and discussing a client's case in staff meetings without client's permission (23%). (Item 44)

126 centers hired a counselor in past years at a mean salary of $22,600. Salary data by degree, race and sex are presented. (Items 46, 47, 48)

When hiring new counselors 7% of centers require, and 35% prefer, applicants to have an APA internship; 47% accept any respectable internship experience; and 10% do not require a prior internship. (Item 49)

The mean salary increase received by counseling staff this year was 6%. (Item 51)

Fundraising activities, software equipment utilized, comments on collective bargaining, and innovative staff development programs are also listed following the statistical summaries. (Items 52 to 56)

COMMENTS

- Not all centers checked urban, non-urban or large, small so some discrepancies will be noted in "total" responses throughout the survey.

1. Centers that charge a fee for services

   - Urban: 14 (10%)
   - Non-Urban: 7 (7%)
   - Large: 15 (14%)
   - Small: 6 (6%)
   - Total: 21 (9%)

   More than 1/4 of the centers began charging only after the 3rd session.

2. Centers that collect 3rd party payments

   - Urban: 8 (6%)
   - Non-Urban: 3 (3%)
   - Large: 9 (8%)
   - Small: 2 (2%)
   - Total: 12 (5%)

   About 1/4 the centers report that fees cover more than 90% of budget, about 1/4 say it covers between 30 and 70% and the remainder say below 30%.

3. Centers supported by a mandatory fee

   - Urban: 42 (31%)
   - Non-Urban: 16 (17%)
   - Large: 33 (30%)
   - Small: 25 (23%)
   - Total: 63 (26%)

4. Centers under pressure to become somewhat self supporting

   - Urban: 14 (10%)
   - Non-Urban: 11 (12%)
   - Large: 16 (15%)
   - Small: 7 (6%)
   - Total: 26 (11%)

   See item #52 for Fund-raising activities.

5. Compared with other institutional units counseling center budget has done:

   - Better than most: 28 (21%)
   - Worse than most: 16 (12%)
   - About the same: 89 (67%)

   For the 3rd year in a row centers report more gains than losses in staff positions.

6. Centers that gained staff positions in past year:

   - Professional: 33 (24%)
   - Clerical: 22 (16%)
   - Grad assistants or 1/2 time interns: 19 (14%)
   - Full time interns: 10 (7%)

   This represents a 10% and 22% increase over last year. Over the past 2 years the reported increase in microcomputers has tripled. See item #53 for listing of software.

7. Centers that lost staff positions in past year:

   - Professional: 16 (12%)
   - Clerical: 8 (6%)
   - Grad assistants or 1/2 time interns: 5 (4%)
   - Full time interns: 4 (3%)

8. Centers that have on:

   - On-line computer: 53 (39%)
   - Micro-computer: 81 (60%)

   This represents a 10% and 22% increase over last year. Over the past 2 years the reported increase in microcomputers has tripled. See item #53 for listing of software.

9. Relationship between student Health Service and C.C.

   - Admin separate: both provide pers. couns.
     - Urban: 35 (26%)
     - Non-Urban: 35 (32%)
     - Total: 70 (28%)

   - Admin sep. SHS prov. all pers. couns.
     - Urban: 35 (26%)
     - Non-Urban: 35 (32%)
     - Total: 70 (28%)

   - Admin sep. CC provides all pers. couns.
     - Urban: 81 (60%)
     - Non-Urban: 72 (75%)
     - Total: 153 (63%)

   - CC Director resp. for SHS
     - Urban: 9 (7%)
     - Non-Urban: 4 (4%)
     - Total: 13 (5%)

   - CC reports to SHS Director
     - Urban: 6 (4%)
     - Non-Urban: 2 (2%)
     - Total: 8 (3%)

   Non-urban and smaller schools seem much less likely to have both services providing personal counseling.
10. Schools where there has been a merger of C.C. and S.H.S. mental health units in past year.

14. Approach to staff evaluation:

- Evaluated on established criteria. Report shared with director's supervisor
- Evaluated on established criteria but shared only with staff member
- No established criteria but director reviews progress on regular basis
- Tenn goals reviewed by total staff. No individual evaluation necessary except when problem becomes obvious.

The reasons given for these opinions were too varied and too extensive to include in this report. Please write if you would like a copy of the responses.

Specialists in 17 other areas were listed including aids, gender issues, sexual assault, sexual dysfunction, phobias, etc. Some centers, however, discourage such specialization.
18. Centers accredited by IACS

19. Centers that provide emotional-education courses for credit

20. Counselors are unionized

21. Impact of bargaining unit on service delivery:
   (a) Positive
   (b) Negative
   (c) No significant impact

22. Centers that have a waiting list problem.

23. Centers with waiting list problems that also have a formal intake system.

24. Time allotted to intake system:
   (a) 1/4 hour
   (b) 1 hour
   (c) 2 hours or more

25. Intake interviews are conducted by:
   (a) Interns only
   (b) Interns & staff
   (c) Staff only
   (d) Other

26. Feelings about intake system:
   (a) Efficient—cuts down on waiting lists
   (b) Inefficient—adds to waiting list
   (c) Helps to identify people who need immediate treatment.
   (d) Helps to assign clients to appropriate staff person
   (e) Bureaucratic—students need to jump another hurdle before getting help.

SUMMARY OF OTHER COMMENTS

| Item included at request of several directors. A lot of confusion, however, about definition of term. |
| See No. 55 for comments on unionization |
| As noted last year centers with waiting list problems tend to be the centers that have formal intake systems. We probably need to study this relationship further. |
| Opportunities to provide early, almost immediate support to all students |
| Opportunity it provides for referral to a group, psychiatrist, or an outside agent |
| Helps in quality assurance |
| Reduces pressure on staff |
| Helps prepare client for counseling |
| Gives staff contact with clients other than own case load |

SUMMARY OF OTHER COMMENTS

- Not necessary (no waiting lists)
- Receptionists trained to identify clients in crisis for quick referral
- Policy of seeing every student ASAP
- It inhibits continuity of care
- Turns intake counselor into data collector-evaluator rather than helper
- Prolongs counseling in many cases
- Some centers do not have formal intake system but every counselor's first session is treated like an intake and student may be referred if appropriate.

Eating disorders and dealing with alcohol problems seem to be receiving the most attention in terms of training being provided. It was interesting to note that men's issues received the least amount of interest in terms of training provided, but a mixed review in terms of whether there was a need for further training in this area. It received the highest percentage of "could use" and the second highest percentage of "not necessary." Directors also seemed to feel a need for more training in "drug-related problems" and in psycho-pharmacology. Directors were least interested in further training in developmental theory.

EXAMPLES OF SUBPOENAS

Complied

1. Child custody cases (3). In Texas, law now states these records must be made available on subpoena basis.
2. First degree murder case
3. Accident cases (2) to prove emotional repercussions, and to show accident a result of personal problems.
4. Negligent suit against gymnastics program
5. Claims against others for emotional damages
6. Insurance and workman's compensation claims (3)

Did not comply

1. Refused even with client's release (2)
2. Refused subpoenas but gave dispositions based on court order (2)
3. Records sought for non-student partner seen in co-joint sessions
5. State attorney-general secured a motion to quash
6. Auto accident. CC claimed resultant emotional problems. Records indicated she never even mentioned accident.

EXAMPLES OF WARNINGS GIVEN

(a) There were 45 instances ranging from 1 to 10 per center of warnings given to parents, residence life staff or others about potentially suicidal students.
(b) Both parents were threatened in 2 cases.
(c) Mothers were warned of threats by their daughters in two cases. In one additional case a mother was involved because a student's suicidal plans were also dangerous to the mother.
(d) The spouse of a student, and the spouse of the parents of a student were given warnings. (The threatening parent was seen by a counselor)
(e) Counseling center staff members were threatened in 2 cases.
(f) There were 4 instances where women were in danger because of jealous or rejected boyfriends.
(g) One male student was warned of a threat by his girlfriend.
(h) Five faculty members were threatened by students.
(i) One student threatened to kill his ex-therapist.
(j) One student's grandfather had to be warned of his grandson's hostile intentions.
(k) There were 6 cases of counselor intervention where the threatened person was unspecified.

(l) Counselors also intervened when students were making terrorist threats in the residence halls, when a faculty member became dangerous, when a student reported knowledge of another person's dangerous threats, and in several cases as consultants to the faculty when dangerous threats were received by students who were not clients.

My understanding of Buckley is that counselor's records need not be made available. Since 30% of the respondents feel differently, some further checking with our school attorneys might be in order.

54. Comments about the benefits of IACS Accreditation

- IACS helped by supplying information needed for reports, obtaining some additions to staff and by adding to our status on campus.
- No specific advantage but did provide for professional recognition and review.
- Helped to strengthen administrative procedures, case conferences, record keeping, funding priorities, pride in staff, etc.
- Offer to help with state-wide funding budget crisis.
- It keeps us on our toes and evaluation is shared with administration.
- The feedback given by site visitors helped staff morale. Also for validating our own perceptions.
- Was major factor in our not losing a staff position.
- Offers reasonable and objective evaluation of our service for ongoing maintenance and expansion.
- None apparent save for satisfaction.
- P.R. with administration.
- More intangible than tangible, but believe it has been helpful for retaining staff, funding and the like.
- Self-study and peer evaluation helpful; also helped get funding for interns; recognition from Dean, V.P., and President.
- Allowed us to thwart attempt by psychiatric service on campus to evaluate us in a bid to take us over. We insisted on peer evaluation by a respected accrediting association.
- Helped us move from acting to permanent director.
- Professional feedback and support. Also additional information to use in requesting administration support for program improvement.
- Accountability; in house "political" value; support for other institutional self-study-initiatives.
- Helping us to maintain staff is primary advantage.
- Added tremendously to university and community support and recognition - increased budget, staff, etc.
- The site visit is extremely useful. Also has helped to enhance our status and reputation on campus.
- Support with administration.
- Increased our credibility and professionalism.
- I question the value of accreditation.
- More credibility within the institution.
- No practical advantage as we are not open to public.
- It has helped us in our arguments for new staff positions which are being decided upon now. Also increased our credibility on campus.
- Information supplied by IACS, and written evaluations and recommendations have been useful in supporting my requests for budget increases.
- Has helped in defining ourselves better through self-evaluation.
- Having minimum standards helpful and the formal self-assessment is good for us.
- Politically valuable in obtaining resources.
- Political advantage.
- No advantage.
- Peer review offers useful suggestions; aids credibility; helps V.P. better understand prof. ethics.
Comments on collective bargaining

a. Our union ineffectual at best, negative in past because union action kept an incompetent person on staff for about 18 months.
b. (Some positive, some negative) - helped specific employee/supervisor expectations regarding workload, etc.
c. Provided continuing appointments for staff with sabbatical leave benefits.
d. Psychologists with Faculty appointments are unionized and receive more money than non-Faculty psychologists. Creates a morale problem.
e. We have a "Faculty" bargaining unit. "Old Timers" in C.C. were placed in the unit. Newer people are in a different category. When vacancies occur, counselors enter into positions that are not in the bargaining unit. Service-wise no problem. Administrative-wise - a pain.
f. Classification became problematic. Communication was, by design, less open.
g. The job security and raises obtained through collective bargaining help morale.
h. Salary decline.
i. As academic staff we have voice, but little weight.
j. Whenever collective bargaining comes here we will close down the Center.
k. Results in clock watching behavior/reluctance to work on weekends, vacation periods, etc.
l. Provides another feedback mechanism.
m. None to date. But currently pursuing grievance to establish a definition of workload to save myself from 50-60 hour work weeks which we find necessary as the only psychological counselor for a student body of 2,500. I can't take the drain any longer.

Sampling of Innovative Staff Development Programs (school numbers follow)
