Chilean Parlamentos (1726-1870)

Pilar M. Herr, PhD- PI
 Associate Professor of History

William Campbell, PhD-Co-PI
 Assistant Professor of History & Digital Humanities

Sean Dileonardi, PhD-Co-PI
 Assistant Professor of English & Digital Humanities

Elizabeth Contreras, MA-Co-PI
 Spanish and Translation Studies

Motivation
• Provide access to a set of documents never published in English before.
• Make documents available to researchers, educators and activists.

Project Description
• Create a born-digital translation of four parlamento treaties (Spanish to English) with accompanying linguistic and historical annotations.
• Site will include pedagogical materials.

Context
• Translations of primary sources exist in book form but are limited.
• A born-digital translation allows visitors to explore other key historical and linguistic components such as maps and pedagogical materials that are not available in book format.

Potential Impact
• This award has helped the team further the pedagogical aspect of the digital project.
• The award has also helped the team prepare a Data Management Plan, workflow timelines, budgets, and mapping of the next three years of the project in preparation for grant applications to the NEH and to the ACLS.

References and/or Acknowledgements
• The Office of Sponsored Programs at the University of Pittsburgh
• The National Endowment for Humanities (NEH)
• ILIADS